Nobody doubted that the courts would affirm the Broadway Cable Company's right to use its own underground ducts for its own signal wires. The Subway Company was mistaken in its idea that the privileges under earth carried a practical proprietorship of the earth.

"The Evening World's" suggestion that the coming North River Bridge should have public promenades, instead of being strictly confined to railway ourposes, readily found the attention and the favor of the bridge people. The splendid walks are practically promised.

It is sometimes a little surprising to note the things that people will do to escape a "fuss." Good-natured New York merchants testify to paying blackmail to escape "fussing" with the police over sidewalk blockades. Ex-Supt. Cline tells the armor-plate investigators that he changed reports at Carnegle's to avoid "fussing" with Government officials, who might be too particular. There are men who consider themselves good citizens, and who yet forfelt their right of franchise to save themselves the "fuss" of going to the polis. Isn't it possible that the time has arrived when a little "fussing" will be for the Interest of all hands?

There is some timidity among politicians organizing under party names, over the matter of cutting clear of party lines in strictly municipal affairs. Chairman Brookneld's kind of Republicans, while making a semi-overture to the fusionists, did a bit of hedging by insisting on a Republican for first place. Similarly, the County Democracy, in assembly at Cooper Union last night, threw aside a clean-cut resolution favor of absolute independence on municipal issues and only resolved that

This German practice is a good one and is one of the reasons why the licensing of Sunday evening concert gardens finds favor with se many people in New York. The farewell gathering at Ulmer Park was an enjoyable affair. The prizes appear to have been awarded with judgment and discretion. Everybody seemed satisfied, the night ended with spirited and merry dancing, which was kept up until a late hour. Then the company dispersed, the old folks well pleased. This German practice is a good one and dspersed, the old folks well pleased, the young dancers tired and delighted, the fat, indifferent bables fast asleep, and the Seventeenth National Saenger-

She gave a somewhat similar evening, but her guests were selected so that they were enabled, and rquested, to entertain the company for five minutes in different ways. There was singing, instrumental playing of various kinds, recitations, legerdemain, fortune-telling, &c. Ballots were taken in the same manner, and prizes awarded for the persons who had been most successful and who had come nearest to it.

The Indispensable Screen.

Every room that is larger than a mere closet should contain a screen. There is hardly an article of furniture more often required. It may hide a little disorder or shield from draughts, or it may quite make two rooms out of one by it livision line. In China painting there is one rule often broken that is necessary the pleasing result. That is that floral decoration should be proportion to the size of the article painted. Over large blossoms that seem to weigh down small dish are not in fine keeping with the delicacy of their form and coloring and have somewhat a grotesque appear-

Cucumber Sauce.

It is better with broiled fish than either a hot or melted butter sauce. Chop on cucumber fine, then drain it carefully in the colander. Season it with sait and pepper and mix with it either two table poonfuls of cocoanut cream or two taplespoonfuls of plain cream, then a teanful of lemon juice, and turn it once into a little dish.

Woman's Opportunity. The woman who labors in the kitchen among pots and pans, with baking powder, sugar and eggs, is a scientist and has chemistry at her finger ends. If she produces a new dish that is appetizing, economical and igestible, she man happiness. If she makes a deft and dainty housemaid, she raises by so much the position which she graces. If she teaches a little child who is in her charge to be honest, pure mine and useful she is helping to rear a good citizen. There is not a calling or profession open to women in which they have not an opportunity to elevate and mprove mankind. How many uplift instead of drag down? It is a very serious question
